

UpStream Artists

The City of Springfield's UpStream Art project helps raise awareness about the importance of protecting our rivers, stream habitat, and aquatic wildlife. Selected UpStream Artists will paint downtown storm drains to illustrate the connection to local waterways. To learn more visit springfieldstreams.org

Jessilyn Brinkerhoff

Jessilyn is a professional muralist, graphic designer, and illustrator in the Pacific Northwest. She works to bring fresh art to the walls of communities, schools and businesses. Inspired by the incredible history, nature and ecosystems of her Northwest home, her images incorporate individual stories inherent to each place she works. Her mural commissions can be found in the cities of Medford, Grants Pass, Eugene and surrounding rural communities. She is an alumnus of the University of Oregon Art and Product Design programs, and shares her creative passion as a teacher and public artist throughout the Northwest.

instagram.com/jessilynbrinkerhoff

Bayne Gardner

Bayne is a mural artist living Eugene. The last few years he has focused mainly on creating murals in public spaces. Most of his work has been produced in a variety of sizes from parking meter boxes to large walls throughout Eugene and Springfield. He also contracts for local company Imagination International Inc. heading up a mural project that involves children in the process of creating murals at schools and parks.

instagram.com/@baynegardner

Christian Howarth/Drawings on the Fly

Christian is an Oregon native and avid fisherman: if it swims, he revels in catching it. He grew up fishing on the west coast, from the mountain lakes around Tahoe to the waters of the Pacific. His jobs have run the gamut from sorority chef, commercial fisherman, USPS letter carrier, bartender, law enforcement, and sales. Christian is a commercial artist, selling his angling-themed custom artwork. He also welcomes trophy portrait commissions. In his spare time, he enjoys teaching his six-year-old daughter about environmental stewardship, and catch and release fly fishing.

facebook.com/drawingsonthefly/

UpStream Artists

Sarah Bast

Sarah moved to Oregon from New Hampshire in 2007 and has been enchanted and inspired by this beautiful land since. Sarah has always been creative and she found painting at the end of 2013 when she began depicting goats and chickens, finding inspiration in the urban farming she and her friends pursue. She is continually delighted by the beauty and fun of the world around her. Learning by doing, these are her beautiful experiments.

sarahbast.com

Esteban Camacho Steffensen

Esteban, a dual national from Eugene, Oregon and San Jose, Costa Rica, is a visual artist who has collaborated with many communities in Oregon, Costa Rica and Europe to portray the beauty and significance of the natural world through the creation of public murals. For the last 10 years he has focused on environmentally themed murals to explore their role in revitalizing urban environments and communicating local values. His current research involves integrating new technologies with the creation of fine art by developing interactive experiences, which can inspire the imaginations of people in our global community, and move them toward being better stewards of the natural world.

ecomurals.com Blog: be.net/ecomurals

